London, January 24.

The Sequel of the Journal from Barcelona.

THE 23d of October his Catholick Majesty rode on Horseback to our Cathedral, where Te Deum was Sung for the Reduction of Gaeta and Suza, and the Cannon on our Fortifications were discharg'd thrice upon this Occasion: In the Afternoon his Majesty was at the Tennis-Court, and in the Evening his Majesty was present at Divine Service in the Church of our blessed Lady.

The 24th, His Catholick Majesty held a Privy-Council in the Morning, and in the Evening a Play was Acted at Court.

The 25th, The Prince di Chiusana and Count de Caraffa, who lately arriv'd here from Naples was declar'd a Grandee of Spain, in consideration of his noble Extraction, his Personal Merits, and his Fidelity to the House of Austria; he was in the Evening admitted to publick Audience, being Cover'd, and he return'd Thanks to the King for this Royal Favour.

The 26th, His Catholick Majesty went out on Horseback early in the Morning; and in the Evening his Majesty gave Audience to several eminent Persons.

The 27th, a Privy Council was held, and Audience was given to several Envoys.

The 28th, Being the Festival of the Holy Apostles Simon and Jude, as also the Nativity of her Majesty the Queen-Dowager of Spain, was celebrated with much Solemnity; his Majesty was in the Forenoon and in the Evening in the Church of our blessed Lady, but diverted himself in the Afternoon in the Tennis-Court.

The 29th, Being the Festival of St. Narcissus, who is a singular Patron of the Principality of Catalonia, was Solemniz'd here as usual.

The 30th, This Day Advice was brought from the Earl of Gallway and Count Uhlefelt that our Army and Militia were broke up from the Neighbourhood of Tarrega, had directed their March to St. Martin, and from thence to Borias, where they were to rest some Days, and afterwards to attempt by all possible Means the Relief of Lerida, at least to throw some fresh Troops into the Castle there.

The 1st of November, Being the Festival of all Saints, his Majesty was both in the Forenoon and Afternoon at Church.

The 2d, His Majesty perform'd his usual Devotions in the Chappel of the Dead in the Church of our blessed Lady.

The 4th, In the Afternoon 20 Prisoners taken near Lerida were brought hither.

The 5th. We had Advice, that the English Rear-Admiral Dilkes was on the Coast of Valentia with 20 Men of War, and intended to Sail hither.

The 6th. His Majesty perform'd his usual Sunday-Devotions in the Church of our blessed Lady; In the Evening his Majesty was Entertain'd with a Consort of Musick.

7th and 8th, His Majesty was busied in writing Letters to Vienna, Germany, England and Holland; The Imperial Courier Jacquier, who lately arriv'd here from Vienna was dispatch'd back, after having been presented with the King's Picture. We are under great apprehensions that the Castle of Lerida must yield to the Enemy, for our Generals Advise they cannot attempt its Relief without too great Hazard of our Army, which is not of sufficient Strength for such an Enterprize.

The 9th, His Catholick Majesty diverted himself with shooting Wild-fowl behind Monjouique. His Majest return'd in the Afternoon, and in the Evening a Play was Acted at Court.

The 10th, Rear-Admiral Dilks with his Squadron came to an Anchor in our Harbour: His Majesty conferr'd with the Prince of Lichtenstein on the arrival of that Squadron, as also about several Matters of State and War.

The 11th, His Catholick Majesty diverted himself with Shooting; and after his return hither, the Baron of Kniphausen Ambassador from the King of Prussia had Audience of Leave.

The 13th, Being the Festival of Maria del Patrocinio, his Majesty perform'd his Devotions both in the Forenoon and Afternoon, and was present in the Evening at the Singing of the Litany near the Pillar of the Mother of God call'd al Borno. The Squadron which Anchor'd in our Harbour, put this Evening to Sea in a fair Moon-shine; They have on board the Baron of Kniphausen, the Marquis Lucini, the Conde de Monte d' Ozo, and the Marquis Conchel.

The 14th, The Fleet which Sail'd hence Yesterday, was still seen here to Day by reason of the contrary Winds. This Day we had Advice from the Prince of Darmstat and the Lord Gallway, that the Garrison of the Castle of Lerida perceiving the Enemy had made a practicable Breach, and that there were no hopes of Relief, Capitulated the 12th, and pursuant to the Honourable Conditions granted them, march'd out the 15th in order to joyn our Army. This Loss has occasion'd here and in the Country some Consternation, because the Enemy have thereby gain'd a free Accession into the open Country, where the People will probably be intirely ruin'd.

The 19th, His Majesty was present in the Forenoon in a Privy-Council, and gave Audiences in the Afternoon. Advice came that the late Garrison of Lerida had joyn'd our Army.

The 20th, His Majesty perform'd his Devotions in the Church of our blessed Lady, and was in the Evening at the Tennis-Court.

21st, Being the Festival of the Offering of St. Mary, his Majesty perform'd his Devotions at the Pillar of al Borno.

The 23d, A Privy-Council was held in the Forenoon: In the Evening his Majesty saw without the Water-Gate a Proof of 2 new Mortars.

The 24th, His Catholick Majesty perform'd his usual Devotions in the Church of our blessed Lady; gave Audience in the Afternoon, and was diverted with Musick in the Evening. Advice was brought him from the Earl of Gallway, that part of the Enemy's Horse appear'd now and then on this side the the Segra, but retir'd constantly again to Lerida: that our Forces by reason of the cold Season were gone into Winter-Quarters in the District of Mount-Blanque, but were so conveniently potted, that they could be drawn together agen with much ease, if Occasion require; That the Enemy had since the Reduction of the Castle of Lerida separated their Army, most whereof are march'd to Quarter in Valentia and Arragon, but the rest, consisting of 6000 Men, are to continue in Lerida and the Parts adjacent.

The 25th, His Catholick Majesty diverted himself with shooting, and gave Audience in the Afternoon.

The 26th, Being the Festival of the Marriage of the Mother of God, his Catholick Majesty perform'd his Devotions at al Borno. Prince Frederick of Hesse-Darmstat arriv'd here this Day, and gave his Majesty an Account of the Siege and Loss of Lerida.

Plymouth, Jan. 20. This Day arriv'd here the Antegoa Pacquet-Boat from the West-Indies.
